GOING TO JESUS.

If I could now to Jesus go, As little children did, When He was dwelling here below, Would any one forbid?

How greatly would my heart rejoice To see my Saviour's face, And hear His kind and gentle voice Speak words of truth and grace!

Dear child, the wish is not in vain; You may to Jesus go, His love and blessing now obtain, And all He can bestow.

When feeling erring, helpless, weak, With earnestness you pray For strength, all God's commands to And shun each evil way ; [keep,]

And, like your Saviour, strive to be Meek, gentle, good and mild; From every sinful passion free, A pure and holy child;

When, for some evil done, your eye With sorrow's tear is dim, And you for peace and pardon cry,--,Tis then you go to Him;

'Tis then you draw to Jesus near;
'Tis then you seek His face;
'Tis then His gentle voice you hear
Speak words of truth and grace. "Let little children come to Me,

My love to them be told,"

Is said as much to day to thee As once to babes of old. Go, seek Him; may His love and truth Your heart and thoughts engage. To bless your childhood, guide your And cheer your latest age. [youth.]
